

Youth 'Caught' and Ticketed with Good Behaviour Invited to Pool Party

A positive ticketing campaign for youth started recently with Provost RCMP and a group called Community Lifestyles and You (CLAY) collaborating.

CLAY member and FCSS director Carrie Olson told The News that RCMP will present youth with a positive ticket to recognize them when they 'catch' them displaying positive behavior. She said tickets have already been issued.

A contest for youth to design the ticket was held. RCMP members selected artwork created by Grade 4 student Emily Scheck of Provost.

The girl was awarded her positive ticket by RCMP constable

Katelyn Pettinger and Olson for showing community involvement by participating in the contest.

Olson said recipients of these tickets are to be invited to celebrate their behaviour at a pool party in August.

This is the first year running the program.

Cochrane RCMP and Rockyview Fire Services were called to a fire in Morley, Alberta. Emergency services found the 142 year old McDougall Church engulfed in flames. The historic church could not be saved. A fire investigator has examined the scene.
