

Quebec—People visit Fort Peninsula which was used in World War II to protect the Gaspe Bay from German U-boats.

PHOTO BY CHARLENE EDEN SPEC REPORTER, GASPE PENINSULA, QUEBEC.

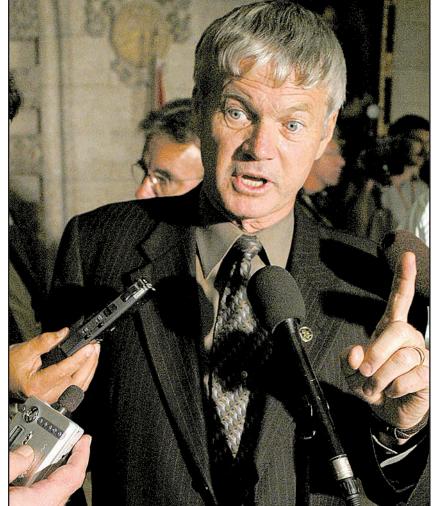

Two men stand beside a wooden wagon while a dog waits patiently for their next move. Photo by sports reporter, Steve Kushneryk, Valley Views, Valleyview, Alberta.

Sheep farmer Mike Byron is shown feeding his flock. (The island is home to the famous Salt Spring lamb.) Photo by the Gulf Islands Driftwood, B.C. Derrick Lundy

orse and driver: Frank MacDonald jogs Turn On The Charm at the Inverness track. The harness racing season for the country track began on June 8. Photo by the Inverness Oran, (N.S.), Frank MacDonald.

"Only one cow has been infected"
The Hon. Lyle Vanclief defends Canada's beef industry during the scrums on Parliament Hill, after Question Period. He raised his hand and indicated the number of cows that had been infected. Photo by Jake Wright, Ottawa Hill Times, Ontario

Whale watching—Tourists on the wharf at Grande-Grave in Forillon National Park have their binoculars trained on the water, hopeful that a whale will appear Photo by Charlene Eden, Spec Reporter, Gaspe Peninsula, Quebec.